

Flint-Based Convergent Technology Partners Employee Receives National Award

Edward Boychuk, from Convergent Technology Partners, a Flint-based technology company, recently received national recognition at the Building Industry Consulting Services International (BICSI) conference, held in Orlando, Florida.

Boychuk was honored with The Larry G. Romig Committee Member of the Year award. The award, established in 1989, was developed in recognition of the volunteer work performed by BICSI members. It honors an individual's exemplary efforts and dedication to work activities performed on the committee. Boychuk has been a member of BICSI for 20 years and is currently the BICSI Membership and Marketing Committee Chair.

Boychuk has been with Convergent Technology Partners since 1998, where he provides technology consulting, design and project management services to businesses, schools and government entities throughout Michigan and South Carolina. For more information on Convergent Technology Partners, visit online at www.ctpartners.net or call 1-877-720-3820.